

Is home economics healthy in your school?

We sometimes hear the catchcry 'Bring back home economics'. Bring it back? We know of countless schools with thriving, dynamic home economics programs that deliver great outcomes for their students. If not your school, why not?

Food literacy, health and nutrition, consumer citizenship, food preparation skills: all at the heart of home economics, all essential for healthy, independent and sustainable living.

Across Australia, home economics teachers have long been the backbone of life-skills education. Today their role is more vital than ever. Home Economics Victoria can help you to find out more.

What do we offer?

- Consultancy and support – become a member!
- Workshops and conferences
- Publications and resources
- Postgraduate training to become a home economics teacher

homeeconomics.com.au

605/198 Harbour Esplanade Docklands VIC 3008 Australia office@hev.com.au Telephone 1300 HOME EC

IFHE 2012
World Congress International Federation
for Home Economics

XXII IFHE World Congress 2012 Global wellbeing

Monday 16 July – Saturday 21 July 2012 Melbourne Australia Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre

An invitation to all Australian teachers

As hosts of the next IFHE World Congress, Home Economics Victoria invites you to participate in a global health and wellbeing forum. To submit a presentation proposal or register for this unique event, go to www.ifhe2012.org